Sarasota Wellness MD

Last updated: January 17, 2025

The Department of Health and Human Services has established a "Privacy Rule" to help ensure that personal information is protected for privacy. The Privacy Rule was also created in order to provide a standard for certain health care providers to obtain their patients' consent for uses and disclosures of health information about the patient to carry out treatment, payment, or health care operations.

As our patient, we want you to know that we respect the privacy of your personal medical care and will do all we can to secure and protect that privacy. We strive to always take reasonable precautions to protect your privacy. When it is appropriate and necessary, we provide the minimum necessary information to only those we feel are in need of your health care information and information about treatment, payment or health care operations, in order to provide health care that is in your best interest.

We support your full access to your personal medical records. We may have indirect treatment relationships with you (such as laboratories that only interact with physicians, not patients), and may have to disclose personal health information for purposes of treatment, payment, or health care operations. These entities are most often not required to obtain patient consent.

You may refuse to consent to the use or disclosure of your personal health information, but this must be in writing. Under this law, we have the right to refuse to treat you should you choose to refuse to disclose your Personal Health Information (PHI). If you choose to give consent in this document, at some future time you may request to refuse all or part of your (PHI). You may not revoke actions that have already been taken which relied on this or previously signed consent.

All phone calls are recorded for quality assurance & training purposes. Your phone number(s) will never be shared with third parties for marketing purposes. All texts are in compliance with the Health Insurance Portability & Accountability Act (HIPAA) of 1996. By providing your phone number to Sarasota Wellness MD and its constituents, you consent to receive SMS text messages from Sarasota Wellness MD for general two-way communication, appointment reminders, marketing and closure messages. Message frequency varies. Message and data rates may apply. Reply HELP for support. Reply STOP to opt-out.

Any personal information you provide on our website www.sarasotawellnessmd.com or text to our phone number (941)922-4264 is held in accordance with our Privacy Policy and Terms & Conditions of Service.
